JUDGE TURNS DOWN PLEA

Richmond, April 29.—In the civil justice court yesterday one of the most unique cases on the court's docket in a long time was decided in favor of the defendant. The case centered around a diamond ring which was given Miss Theresa Lukhard about four years ago by A. A. Thorpe, and which he later demanded back. At first the young lady showed a willigness to return the ring, at which time he did not take. However, the plaintiff later on changed his mind, and so did the young lady, after which suit was instituted. Judge Tucker did not hesitate a minute in rendering his verdict. Attorney for the defendant made out a clear case of gift, while the attorney for the plaintiff contended that his client gave the diamond ring, which was engraved with the young lady's initials, on the condition that she would return it if he ever wished it.

The plaintiff testified that when he bought the ring the price was $135. He was suing for $250, which amount he said the ring had advanced since June, 1916.

The recently elected delegates to the State Convention, which will be held in Norfolk on May 25th and 26th, were instructed by the council to extend to the State body an invitation to hold the next State convention in Alexandria next year. It will be recalled that the State Convention of the Knights of Columbus was held in Alexandria some years back, and it was stated by one of the brothers, who is a frequent visitor at the anual conventions, that the name of Alexandria has ever lingered in the memory of those who were entertained at the Alexandria Convention. F. T. Quinn was unanimously elected to succeed W. J. Greenan as recording secretary; M. J. McFarland and M. E. Green succeeds two of the recent trustees whose terms expired; F. T. SPORTS

The Virginia Athletic Club is endeavoring to show their true worth on the diamond to the fans of Alexandria and under the captaincy of "Jumbo" Raison are rounding a fast team into shape for the coming season.

Owing to the shortage of suitable diamonds in Alexandria they have been forced to arrange the majority of their Sunday games away from home but have managed to book several good games for Saturday evenings on the Alfred Street diamond. The fans may feel assured of real action at these games.

The Virginians are composed mostly of the younger element of the city, and though classed by some as "kids" feel sure they can hold their own with any comers. They claim nothing all they ask is a square deal.

What should prove to be a game of real action has been scheduled with the Shamrock Athletic Club, of Washington, for Saturday, May 1, on the Alfred street diamond at 3 p. m.

Practice for the Virginias will be held this afternoon and Friday on the above diamond at 5.30 p. m. All candidates are requested to be on hand.

A meeting of the Virginia Athletic Club will be held tonight at the club house, foot of Wolfe street, at 8 o'clock. Every member is requested to attend.

Are we going to back down and let success fail? No. Lets keep it up citizens and show your support Monday night.

The show will present the Mason-Dixon players minstrel as it opening number. This organization led by Bernie Hamilton has met with great success in Washington and vicinity during the past season.

THE RICHMOND HORROR

An editorial in the Gazette of Monday called attention to the fact that Tuesday, April 27, was the fiftieth anniversary of what is known as the Richmond disaster, when many persons were killed by the fall of a crowded gallery, which carried away the floor of the House of Delegates. We could not at the time give the number killed and injured by this horror, but merely recalled the death of T. A. Brewis and the serious injury sustained by the late George W. Brent. The Richmond Times-Dispatch in its clippings from its files of half a century ago has reproduced the following:

"Yesterday occurred the greatest calamity that ever afflicted this city save the burning of the theater in 1811. It was occasioned by the falling in of the floor of the old Senate Chamber, in the Capitol, which is now used for the sessions of the Supreme Court of Appeals of the State. Eleven o'clock was the hour for the meeting of the court, and, it being understood that there would be announced the decision upon the question of the constitutionality of the enabling act —otherwise known as the Chahoon-Ellyson case (a contest for the Mayoralty) which has excited so much interest in this community—a large number of citizens assembled in the gallery and the space in front of the bench before the hour appointed. The weight of such a packed mass was too great for the imperfectly constructed flooring and yet more faulty gallery, which was suspended from the upper joists in a most defective manner. The gallery first fell forward, the floor yielding instantly and going down with it, carrying the packed body of men to the floor of the House of Delegates, fully twenty feet below. As fearful and fatal as this was, the heavy ceiling and the timbers which supported it descended along with the mass, greatly increasing the mortality. Fifty-six were killed outright and others may die from injuries received. Had the catastrophe occurred ten minutes earlier possibly half the members of the House of Delegates would have been killed by the falling of the mass upon them, for a caucus of the great majority of the body had adjourned probably not ten minutes before the occurrence; or had the hour for the meeting of the court been 12 instead of 11 o'clock, a like destrucion of life would have taken place, for the Legislature would then have been in session."

THE SANDY SPRING TRAGEDY

Francis M. Hallowell, who was shot and killed by a bank robber at Sandy Spring, Md., last Monday afternoon, was of an Alexandria family, one well-known in bygone years. He was a son of Henry Hallowell, and a grandson of Benjamin Hallowell, who many years ago conducted a boys' school on Washington street, between Cameron and Queen. His mother was a daughter of the late Robert H. Miller, who for many years conducted the chinaware business in a building which stood upon the site of the present Gazette building, on the north side of King street, between Fairfax and Royal. Members of the Hallowell and Miller families removed to Montgomery county, Md., many years ago, but they often visit their old home city, where they have many relatives and friends.

Francis M. Hallowell was a man of powerful physique, and there is every reason to believe that his purpose was to grapple with the bandit, in which event the latter would surely have come out second-best. But the robber and murderer had no intention of taking chances with him, and discharged his pistol before Mr. Hallowell could seize him.

Bank robbers make close studies before they precipitate their drives. No doubt they had sized up each person connected with the institution at Sandy Spring. They had taken Mr. Hallowell's measure, and knew he was the only man likely to give them trouble. Hence he was dispatched at the beginning, and battered unmercifully with the butt of a revolver until assured he was dead.

Several suspects have been arrested, but, so far, the fiends have not been identified.

BREAD FAMINE SPECTRE

An article in this column a week or more ago directed attention to the fact that most of the bread consumed in Alexandria is manufactured in Washington. The staff of life is brought to this city in auto trucks and wagons long before the stars are out of the sky and placed in boxes in front of stores. Later housekeepers procure their daily bread.

Washington papers tell us a bread famine may result in the capital city as the result of a strike which seems to be imminent. Such a movement is likely to bring distress to Alexandrians as well, as many people living in this city at this time are engaged in light housekeeping and not having baking facilities, are dependent upon the public bakeries. Of course, those possessing such facilities can bake their own bread, and experience but little inconvenience.

Washington and Alexandria families face two alternative crisis in the food situation as a result of the demands of the Journeymen Bakers' Union for increased wages. If the bakers vote to strike Saturday night, the prospect of a breadless city is presented, while if their employers meet the demands of the men a further increase in the price of bread is regarded as inevitable.

A mass meeting of the union bakers will be held Saturday night for the purpose of recording a vote on the concession offered last week by the master bakers. This concession involved a 25 per cent raise in wages and continuation of the present 8-hour day.

The employes are holding out for a 7 1-2 hour day at the rate of $1 an hour, in lieu of the 64 cents an hour now paid the men. The compromise suggested by the master bakers would increase the present wage to 80 cents an hour.

THE BLESSING OF CONTENTMENT

The instinct of contentment is an heavenly blessing, but probably one of the most difficult of all our duties The contneted man is a happy specimen of the genus homo, but Diogenes with the aid of his lamp might find it hard to find such.

One of the most pointed injunctions of holy writ is summed up in few words: "Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have."

But in these days of the high cost of living and the thousand and one demands upon the exchequer of those whose incomes are not commensurate with the age, well-disposed people are inclined to look with extenuation upon those who make misteps—weak individuals who fail to keep inviolate the heavenly suggestion given above.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis pointed an example in low wages paid by the government in Chicago yesterday when Allen E. Carlisle, a postoffice clerk, was arraigned for stealing diamonds valued at $1,100 from the mails.

Turning to the spectators, the judge said: "Look at this man. He has two children to support. He works from 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon until 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, and all he is paid by the government is $1,200 a year.

"I suppose I will have to send him to prison, but he has been working like a slave and getting only half of what he would get as private secretary to a hodcarrier."

Carlisle pleaded guilty.

DENOUNCE "LILY WHITES"

Colored Republicans Protest Measures Used by State Convention and Elect Own Delegates

Raleigh, N. C., April 29.—North Carolina Republican negroes will carry their fight for participation in the party councils to the national convention at Chicago, it was determined at the negro Republican State convention here yesterday, when delegates to the Chicago convention were elected.

A hundred or more delegates from the ten congressional districts in the State attended the convention and enthusiastically adopted resolutions protesting against the "lily white" element in the party.

The convention refused to submit questionnaires to candidates for various State offices, but expressed in resolutions the need of effective political activity with fullness of ballot, equality, under the law, equal pay for equal work, the abolition of the "Jim Crow" spirit in American institutions, and a Federal law against lynching. In addition, the resolutions denounced the "lily white" element in the Republican party in the State and the alleged efforts of John J. Parker Republican candidate for Governor, to read them out of the party.

MINERS REJECT OFFERS

Negotiations at New York Deadlocked By Action of Workers

New York, April 29.—Representatives of the anthracite mine workers have notified the operators that their counteroffer of a wage increase approximately 15 per cent has been rejected and declined to accept their proposal for arbitration, according to a statement issued here last night by the subcommittee appointed to negotiate a new wage agreement for the hard-coal workers.

The plan of arbitration submitted by the mine owners, it was learned, proposed that the subcommittee ask President Wilson to name three individuals representing the public to sit in with the committee and attempt to arbitrate the difference.

The presentation of the miners' reply resulted in the negotiations going into a deadlock, Neither side attempted to moderate their stand. The operators, however, asked that the committee take an adjournment until today at 12.30 o'clock.

"OVERALL COPS"

Mills Plans Denim Uniforms for City Guardians

Philadelphia, April 29.—Philadelphia will be the first large city to boast of "the overall cop," if plans under consideration by Superintendent of Police William B. Mills turn out successfully.

The advantage of a uniform made of dark blue denim has been demonstrated to the Superintendent, he said yesterday. Sergeant Malcolm MacDonald, of the Mounted Traffic Department, performed the services as model for the new uniform.

Superintendent Mills declared he was well pleased with the denim uniform, the fact that it can be obtained for less than half the price of the present outfits.

As an experiment, the head of the police said, uniforms of denim will be ordered for the members of the Mounted Traffic, Traffic and Reserve squads. If sufficient material can be obtained these branches of the Police Bureau, which include approximately 500 men, will be on the pioneers among policemen in the overall movement to combat the high cost of living. They will wear the uniform this summer.

Superintendent Mills also said yesterday a steel booth which had been invented by members of the Traffic squad will be brought in use the coming winter. These structures, which are collapsible and poratble, are designed for the protection of policemen regulating traffic in the centre of the city.

One of the largest gold nuggets ever found, weighing 151 pounds, was uncovered by a man digging a grave for a friend.

An investigation into the alleged conduct of fire truck drivers of Winchester in going at very slow speed in responding to alarms recently, in order to bring a recent city ordinance limiting speed to 18 miles per hour into disrepute, was begun Tuesday by Mayor Ward. All fire truck drivers testified, those of the Rouss and Sarah Zane companies saying they sought to comply with the law, while the Friendship company's driver, said his company had reduced the speed to 12 miles after the City Council had prescribed 18 miles. The driver, Garnett Affleck, admitted he had been ordered by the executive committee to buy black crepe and drape the apparatus and fire hall. He said he took his orders from those who employed him, and did not know the law gave the mayor control over the fire department.

"Silk-Mask Burglar" Killed in Battle With Chicago Police After Bombarding Stationhouse

Chicago, April 29.—Seven hundred robberies, whose loot is believed to total more than $500,000, were cleared up yesterday, when police examined the effects of Henry J. James, "silk mask burglar," who was killed last night after "shooting up" the Town Hall Police Station, wounding two patrolmen.

In James' private warehouse, where truck loads of rare art works, Oriental rugs, jewels, typewriters, adding machines, and dozens of other articles were found, police uncovered a card index, in which the 700 robberies were listed, with the loot obtained.

Another section of the card file listed "prospects" and the wealth of data about each presented that James had used the electric light inspector's card found in his pocket to gain entry to the houses.

A third file listed "good risks," automobiles with description, license number, owners' name, and "fair," "good" or "swell" to indicate the valuation.

Police also found ledgers listing loot sold, with the price obtained, and a list of pawnbrokers with the type of goods each preferred to buy.

In a secret chamber in the basement were 150 Oriental rugs, appraised by an expert at $40,000.

When James was killed he was found to be wearing a suit belonging to former United States Senator Lorrimer. The suit was one of forty stolen from a tailor shop.

Total coinage of the United States from 1793 to 1915 amounted to $4,500,000,000.

METHODISTS TO LIFT BAN

Conference is Expected to Revise Mandatory Act to "A Word of Advice"

Syracuse, N. Y., April 29.—The Rev. Dr. Edmund M. Mills, acting secretary for the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which opened Saturday at Des Moines, Iowa, said last night that the conference probably would revise the ban on amusements, changing it from a mandatory act in the Book of Discipline to a word of advice.

Memorials submitted to Dr. Mills from conferences in all parts of the country show about one third of teh preachers want to eliminate all reference to dancing, theatres and card playing, with the others uncertain as how to deal with the proposition.

In view of the fact that the preachers do not put and keep women on trial for these amusements, Dr. Mills will move the elimination of the following words in that part of the Book of Discipline dealing with teh trial of a member for imprudent conduct:

"Dancing, playing at games of chance, attending theatres, horse races, circuses, dancing parties, patronizing dancing schools or taking part in such other amusements as are obviously of misleading and questionable moral tendency."

In the matter of laymen being seated in the annual conferences the memorials show them to be defeated by at least 500 votes. The laymen carried the measure ten to one, but were defeated by the ministers.

'MARRIAGE DAY' MAY 1

Big Decline in Birthrate of Turkey is Ascribed to Frivolity

The Sultan, Mohammed VI, has issued an imperial decree proclaiming May 1 as "marriage day" throughout Turkey in an effort to promote the weddings and to arrest the decline in the birthrate. This action was taken on the request of Hazim Bey, Minister of Interior, who ascribes the decreased number of births in Turkey to the frivolity of young women.

In the Sultans decree, all engaged persons who have been unable to marry earlier are urged to do so on May 1. As an inducement, no charges are to be made for marriages performed on that day, guests at weddings are to make no gifts, the first children of those who wed on May 1 are to receive the names of teh children of the Sultan and to receive the gift of a bracelet from the governor of the province in which the child is born.

The Sultan's son is named d'Ertoghroul and his daughters are Roukie and d'Ulvie.

The edict is especially directed to the province of Broussa, in Anatolia, which attracted much unfavorable comment in the Mohammedan press because of its greatly reduced birthrate and the tendency of its population to violate the Moslem prohibition of the use of intoxicating beverages. Government officials allege that people of Anatolian villages, men and women alike, indulge what they call "burning nights" of music and feasting.

Indulgence in modern dancing has aroused the protest of a member of the Chamber of Deputies from Anatolia, who has introduced a bill authorizing officials to prevent women from "participating in the antics and capers of the ballroom."

EXPENSE IN DEBT CASE

Hearing Will be Resumed Before Commissioner Scott

Richmond, April 27.—Expenses of about $1,000,000 have accrued in the thirty years of litigation over the settlement of the $14,000,000 debt of West Virginia to Virginia, it was brought out yesterday when hearing of the expense accounts of the various parties interested in the settlement was had before Special Commissioner Robert E. Scott.

Testimony of Randolph Harrison, counsel for the West Virginia Debt Commission, took up the time of the hearing yesterday and will be continued today. It was brought out that the expense account of the commission will be around $400,000 or an average of $50,000 for each member of the commission.

Testimony yesterday showed, however, that not all members of the commission will receive the same sum, some of the original members of the commission having died and their places taken by others. It also was learned that the secretary of the commission, Colonel Joseph Button, is to receive compensation equal to that of a member of the commission. His claim is said to be $50,000.

After the testimony of Mr. Harrison is heard, representatives of the firm of Brown Brothers, of New York City will be summoned to present a statement of their expenses to the commissioner. Brown Brothers are said to own about 90 per cent of the total certificates of indebtedness against the State which are involved in the controversy. Their expense account was estimated yesterday at not less than $150,000.

Extending over a period of thirty years, there are a labyrinth of details to be threshed over which cover the expenses of the various parties involved in the many court actions which have been taken concerning the debt, extending from the time of the original court action to the final fight in the Supreme Court of the United States, at which time the matter was decided in favor of the State of Virginia.

Several days more probably will be consumed by the commissioner in hearing all witnesses in the case.

KEPT HEADS OF WOMEN

Egyptian "Bluebeard" Took Jewels—Averaged Murder a Week

Cairo, Egypt, April 29.—Discovery of the heads of twenty women in a house in the town of Tanta, has revealed the existence of an Egyptian "bluebeard," the news of whose crimes is striking the whole country.

This human monster, it appears, enticed women of good family to visit him in his house on the pretext he would introduce them to wealthy admirers. None of the women ever came back from his house.

In inviting the women, "Bluebeard" urged them to make themselves as attractive as possible and put on their most precious fineries and jewels. Once he had them in his grasp, he took all these things and murdered teh women, burning their bodies, but not the heads. He committed one such crime weekly until inquiries by sorrowing relatives led to the Tanta murder house, whereupon the criminal fled. He is described as a handsome adventurer with a flowing beard. He is still at large.

EMPRESS SEES BULL FIGHT

Madrid, April 29.—For the first time in forty years, ex-Empress Eugenie, widow of Napoleon III, saw a bull fight at Seville yesterday. Throughout the last four decades she had shunned the ring. Today she explained it was a "whim," and she wanted to see another fight before she died adding, "I'm getting old, you know!"

The Empress has just celebrated her ninety-fourth birthday.

When the aged Empress, whose whims once ruled all Europe, entered a hush fell upon the brilliant assemblage. All men, from the proudest of Spanish nobles to the humblest of peasants in the gallery, bared their heads in reverence. After the fight, Eugenie distributed presents among the matadors.

SAYS GIRL DESIRED DEATH

Youth Held for Slaying Pretty Phone Operator Makes Novel Defense

Pontiac, Mich., April 29.—Vera Schneider, pretty 19-year-old telephone operator found choked to death Sunday night on the porch of an abandoned dwelling here, was murdered at her own request, according to an alleged confession made to Prosecutor Gillespie by Allen Best, 24, of Flint, police announced yesterday.

Best, according to the alleged confession, met Miss Schneider by flirting with her. Continuing, according to police, the confession said: "We walked along for a while and then went up on the porch of a vacant house. She put her arms around my neck and asked me to kill her. She said she was tired of life.

"I took out a couple of handkerchiefs, knotted them together and slipped them over her head. I thought they were around her mouth, but the noose must have slipped further down. I drew it tight, but she complained it was not tight enough. When I pulled tighter, she gasped and then was still. I went away and washed my hands."

GETS SEVEN YEARS

In Addition Must Pay Fine of $1,000 or Serve 1,000 Days More

New York, April 29.—John Closhacy 24 years old, of Tenth avenue, was sentenced to Sing Sing for seven years by Judge Otto Rosalsky in General Sessions yesterday. In addition to this the court imposed a fine of $1,000, and after Closhacy has served his seven years, if he cannot pay the fine he will have to serve 1,000 days more. He pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying a revolver.

The prisoner told Judge Rosalsky that he had been sentenced to Elmira Reformatory in 1913 for burglary and that being released he had committed another burglary and was sentenced to four years in Sing Sing.

Detective Shields, who arrested Closhacy on East 124th street February 17 last, told the Court that he saw Closhacy and a companion acting suspiciously and that when defendant entered a house on East 124th street and his companion entered the building next door he, Shields, grabbed Closhacy, whereupon Closhacy pulled out a revolver and threatened to kill him, according to the detective. Closhacy's companion escaped.

INGOMAR—J. Warren Kerrigan

Credit J. Warren Kerrigan with another clever production.

A delightful story brilliantly done by this most popular of male screen stars and his own company and enacted amid settings that only Robert Brunton can devise, "Live Sparks," newest of Mr. Kerrigan's popular W. W. Hodkinson releases, is destined for the same brand of public approbation accorded his recent trio of productions made under Robert Brunton auspices.

"Live Sparks," an engrossing romance of the Texas oil fields by Caroline Sayre, a noted writer of fiction, is Kerriganesque throughout—brimful of everything the magnetic artist does best before the camera—with a wealth of love interest and plenty of daring adventure. Such notable players as Petit Brunette, Joseph J. Dowling, John Steppling and Arthur Millette, contributed capital performances in "Live Sparks," which comes to the Ingomar Theatre tonight.

RICHMOND "King Spruce"

One of the most satisfactory picturizations of a big novel that has been made in the past two years is "King Spruce," produced by Otto Bollman and Roy Clements for the Dial Film Company and announced for presentation by W. H. Hodkinson, its distributor, at the Richmond Theatre, tonight.

Mitchell Lewis, the best actor of rugged types in the entire cinema world, is the star of "King Spruce," the picture version of Holman Day's Famous story of the Maine forests, and throughout the multi-reel production this master artist does work of tremendous power and conviction, his performance taking rank with his remarkable achievement in "The Barrier" that lifted him overnight into select screen circles.
